Community Engagement

“The most important skills I learned were done right in the classroom when doing my TIA project. I learned how to think “outside the box” in trying to understand how these children with disabilities think and function. I found it very rewarding to “get it” myself and for the children I worked with to understand what I was trying to get them to understand.”

teach live

In the TLE TeachLive™ Lab, pre-service and in-service teachers practice teaching in a simulated classroom where the room is real but the students are digital avatars.
